Easter

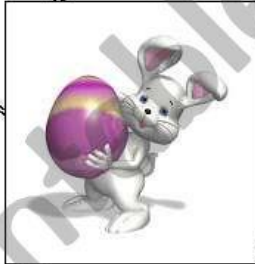

ASH WEDNESDAY is the first day of Lent, which is a period of 40 days before Easter, during which Christians usually give up some of their usual pleasures.

PALM SUNDAY is the Sunday before Easter, which is the first day of the Holy Week. The name comes from the palm branches that were thrown on the ground in front of Jesus as he entered Jerusalem.

MAUNDY THURSDAY is the Thursday before Easter on which Christ told his 12 apostles to love one another and symbolically washed their feet.

GOOD FRIDAY is the day when Christians remember Christ's crucifixion. On this day people fast and church bells stop ringing.

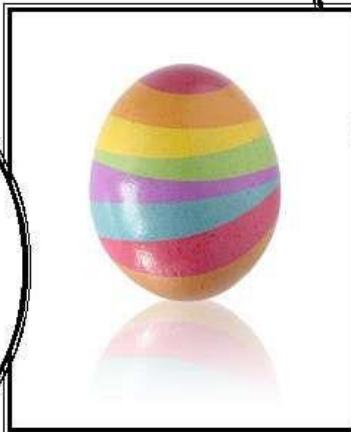

EASTER SUNDAY or Easter Day celebrates Christ's rising from the dead. Many Christians go to church on Easter Sunday and eat blessed food for breakfast. It is not so much about food and presents as Christmas, but people give presents of Easter eggs, especially to children. On Easter morning children hunt for them, because they believe they were hidden by the Easter Bunny.

EASTER EVE is the Saturday before Easter Day when churches are closed and quiet, which symbolises Christ lying in the tomb.

EASTER MONDAY is public holiday in England, when people enjoy their free time with their family, visit friends, or they sometimes go to the seaside
